

What is Reformed about Remnant Westside Church?

People sometimes ask why we at Remnant Westside Church call ourselves “Reformed.” Many people know the term basically means “to be shaped or formed as before.” But what does it mean to call a church Reformed? What is Reformed about RWC?

Along with other churches in Acts Ministries International, our primary goal is to proclaim the gospel of Jesus Christ, to worship the Triune God, and to equip believers for service in the body of Christ. At the same time, we emphasize a set of concerns that make us Reformed. What are these concerns? We can summarize our Reformed distinctives in three ways: Our Reformed Roots, Our Reformed Theology, and Our Reformed Hope.

OUR REFORMED ROOTS

We call ourselves Reformed because Remnant Westside Church beliefs and doctrine are rooted in the Protestant Reformation. In the sixteenth century, many believers protested against false teachings in the church and returned to the true gospel under the leadership of Reformers such as Martin Luther, Ulrich Zwingli, and John Calvin. The term “Reformed” was associated primarily with Calvin’s work in the church of Geneva, but all Protestant Reformers held certain cardinal views in common.

At RWC, our historical roots extend to the central beliefs that characterized the Protestant Reformation. These commitments can be summarized in three basic doctrines: Sola Scriptura, Sola Gratia, and Sola Fide. Sola Scriptura (Latin for “Scripture Alone”) expresses our strong commitment to the unquestionable authority of the Bible. The early Reformers saw many errors in the church of their day. Many of these false teachings stemmed from a denial of Biblical authority. The outlooks of human leaders in the church had risen to a level of authority equal to the Word of God. These human traditions led the church away from truth, and Protestants countered these false views by affirming the unique and supreme authority of the Bible.

We believe it is very important to reaffirm the Bible as the final authority for God’s people. In many circles, the place of Scripture has been usurped by human traditions once again. Modern science, philosophy, and popular opinion have led many to deny the authority of Scripture. In response to these current problems, RWC affirms with the Reformers that the Bible is the only unquestionable authority.

The apostle Paul told Timothy, “All Scripture is God-breathed and is useful for teaching, rebuking, correcting and training in righteousness” (2 Timothy 3:16). In line with this apostolic witness, we affirm that the original manuscripts of the Bible are the inspired Word of God, without error. They stand as the final judge of truth in all areas of life. We have but one unquestionable rule of faith and life - the Scriptures.

People at RWC find our belief in Sola Scriptura put into action. Everything we do is oriented towards rightly examining and applying Scripture to the modern world. Our people are taught to take every thought -- theological, philosophical, historical, scientific, artistic, etc. -- captive and make it obedient to Christ under the guidance of Scripture (2 Corinthians 10:4). You will never find our pastor staff or elders or (Elders in Training) in the church questioning the absolute authority of the Bible. Instead, we face the challenges of living for Christ by submitting ourselves absolutely to the Old and New Testaments as our ultimate authority.

Sola Gratia (latin for “Grace Alone”) declares the Reformers’ belief that the entirety of salvation is God’s gracious gift through Christ. The Reformers encountered the false teaching that human beings could contribute to their own salvation. Believers were taught that they had to add their own merit to the work of Christ in order to receive eternal life. In response to this view, the Reformers insisted that salvation is by grace alone. As the Scripture teaches, “For it is by grace you have been saved, through faith-and this not from yourselves, it is the gift of God not by works, so that no one can boast” (Ephesians 2:8-9). We are without any hope in ourselves; redemption is a gift freely given by God through grace alone.

In our day, we need to hear this message of grace as never before. Many evangelical churches today teach that redemption is a mixture of divine help and human effort. Some churches teach their people a social gospel; deeds of kindness and charity will bring us salvation. Others teach that God’s gracious favor is found through a system of legalism: “do this ... don’t do that.” In one way or another, good moral living becomes a way for us to earn God’s grace and contribute to our own salvation.

RWC is committed to resisting any idea that diminishes the wonder of God’s grace in salvation. The apostle Paul tells us that the eternal promises of God belong to those who “put no hope in the flesh” (Philippians 3:3). Hence, we are committed to keeping the Bible’s message of grace in everything we do. We will not turn away from complete reliance on God in order to put hope in human strength. We look to Christ and Christ alone to overcome the ravages of sin in our lives and in the world.

We also teach the importance of letting grace saturate our community. We work hard to have a Authentic Biblical Community which reflects the mercy of God. There isn’t one of us who is not in need of a lot of patience and mercy -- both human and divine. God identify with us so that we can draw near to him. He went to immeasurable lengths to give and forgive. How then can we not respond with grace towards others? Indeed, freely we have received; freely we must give (Matthew 10:8).

At RWC, we teach that biblical obedience comes as a response to God’s grace, not as a prerequisite for receiving it. We are to be motivated by love for God and gratitude for all he has done. We have no greater honor than to submit ourselves fully to the commands of God and let Him conform us to the image of Christ (Romans 8:29). At the same time, we avoid all forms of legalism that insist on life habits which go beyond the teachings of Scripture. Instead, we promote Christian liberty and affirm the dignity of the believer’s conscience in applying the incontrovertible truths of Scripture. Here again, RWC stands with the Reformers and relentlessly affirms that we are saved by grace alone.

Sola Fide (latin for “Faith Alone”) teaches that justification before God is a once and for all event that takes place through faith alone. The early Reformers protested against a church that believed the people’s eternal standing before God varied moment by moment. No one could be confident of eternal salvation. Doing good gained the favor of God; doing evil earned His anger. In response, the Protestants reaffirmed the Biblical perspective: “to the man who does not work but trusts God who justifies the wicked, his faith is credited as righteousness” (Romans. 4:5). In assuring believers of their unchangeable status with God, Paul goes on to say, “Who will bring any charge against those whom God has chosen? It is God who justifies. Who is he that condemns? Christ Jesus, who died -- more than that, who was raised to life -- is at the right hand of God and is also interceding for us” (Romans. 8:33-34). Everyone who trusts in Christ by faith for salvation receives immediate and full forgiveness of all their sins. God’s declaration of righteousness is the complete and final verdict for all who have genuine faith in the Savior.

We stand firmly on the belief in justification by faith alone. All around us people believe their eternal destinies hang in the balance of each day's activities. At RWC, however, we serve Christ out of the confidence that God has forgiven us of our sins, and credited to our account the righteousness of Christ. When men and women place their faith in Christ, they are set free to serve God with a bold assurance, not out of fear and dread. This confidence in our justification by faith alone then equips us to bring the gospel of Christ to our lost and dying world.

We stand firm with the early Protestant Reformers for what they did; we stand with them as heralds of the Reformed faith. They had the wisdom and courage to formulate biblical truth amid much opposition. Alongside their powerful convictions, however, they also had the humility to state repeatedly, "The Reformed Church is always reforming." Like the Reformers, we at RWC face the challenges of our day with conviction and humility. We must always look for new ways to apply the timeless truths of scripture to our own generation.

With an innovative and pioneering spirit we must engage the world of the twenty-first century as the Reformers engaged the world in the sixteenth century. We believe the best way to prepare Christians today is to help them sink their own roots into the great truths of the Protestant Reformation.

OUR REFORMED THEOLOGY

We also call ourselves Reformed at RWC because we affirm the theology that grew out of the Reformation. The contours of this body of doctrine are conveniently outlined in the Belgic Confession, the Heidelberg Catechism, as well as in the Westminster Confession of Faith and Catechisms.

Reformed Theology includes many items affirmed by all evangelicals. Nevertheless, we also have some distinctive doctrinal emphases. For instance, at the heart of Reformed Theology is belief in God's sovereignty and human dependence. Put simply, we believe the Scriptures teach that God is in complete and absolute control of his creation. We depend on him for all we have and are. These central beliefs are especially important in Reformed outlooks on the plan of salvation.

In the first place, Reformed Theology stresses that God sovereignly accomplished salvation for his people through a single Covenant of Grace extending from one end of the Bible to the other. This covenant relationship between God and his redeemed people unfolded in many stages throughout Biblical history, but these various stages are aspects of one unified Covenant in Christ. Believers before Christ's incarnation looked ahead to salvation coming in Christ. New Testament believers look back at the redemption completed in Christ's death and resurrection. This Covenant of Grace in Christ has always been the only divinely ordained plan for salvation from sin.

In the second place, God also displays his sovereignty and our utter dependence as he applies the Covenant of Grace to individual believers. It often helps to summarize this aspect of Biblical teaching in "The Five Points of Reformed Theology:"

1. Total Depravity:

We stress the pervasive corruption of sin. Sin reaches every aspect of human personality and leaves no nook or cranny untainted. The prophet Jeremiah writes, “The heart is deceitful above all things and beyond cure. Who can understand it?” (Jeremiah. 17:9) For this reason, all people are spiritually dead (Ephesians 2:1) and unable, apart from the inward stirrings of the Holy Spirit, to respond in faith to the offer of the gospel. We must depend on a sovereign act of God to break the grip of sin.

2. Unconditional Election:

We believe that the eternal, unconditional love of God for us is the ultimate basis of our salvation. Believers do not establish their own redemption; they utterly depend on God’s sovereign, everlasting love in Christ as the ground of their salvation. As Paul wrote, “It does not, therefore, depend on man’s desire or effort, but on God’s mercy” (Romans 9:16).

3. Limited Atonement:

We emphasize that Christ’s atoning death did not simply make salvation possible. Rather, his sacrifice on the cross completely accomplished the salvation of believers. Christ died for “his sheep” (John 10:11,15), “his Church” (Acts 20:28), and “his People” (Matthew 1:21) to give them eternal life. God sovereignly ordained Christ’s death as the full payment for our sins. Thus, it fully satisfied the judgment of God for those who believe.

4. Irresistible Grace:

We recognize that salvation comes to sinful people because the Holy Spirit sovereignly changes their rebellious hearts. He gives them the spiritual ears with which to hear the call of God. The sheep hear the voice of Christ, are known by Him, and follow Him (John 10:27). We depend on His powerful grace to transform us into new creations (2 Corinthians 5:17) and to draw us to our Savior.

5. Perseverance of Saints:

We stress that God’s power will keep true believers in Christ to the end. While we recognize our responsibility to “work out our salvation” with great seriousness (Philippians 2:12), we also affirm that it is God who is at work within us both “to will and to do His good pleasure” (Philippians 2:13). Thus, we persevere in faith with the assurance of eternal life because God sovereignly works all things for our good (Romans 8:28).

*The Reformed outlook on God’s plan of salvation is the heartbeat of our church.
We proclaim God’s sovereign grace as the only hope for a lost and dying world.*

OUR REFORMED HOPE

We also call ourselves Reformed because of our hope for the future. All believers look forward to that great day when Jesus will return in glory. We share this vision with all of our brothers and sisters in Christ. Yet, throughout the centuries, the Reformed branch of the church has sought ways to bring the gospel to all areas of life. Our Reformed Hope motivates us to expand the Kingdom in two ways.

First, RWC prepares men and women to bring the gospel to all people in every part of the world. We encourage our people to serve every segment of their community. Moreover, we challenge our people to consider the call to missions to the end of earth. We are told that Christ purchased people for God “from every tribe and language and people and nation” (Revelation 5:9). Therefore, the proclamation of the Gospel to all people is one of the chief aims of our church.

Second, our Reformed Hope looks beyond preaching and the building of the church. We believe that the Lordship of Christ extends to all areas of life. Christ is Lord not only of the church; he is supreme over finance, the arts and sciences, and the community at large.

For this reason, we do not withdraw from the world. Rather, we prepare our people to bring the Word of God to bear on every dimension of human culture. As the Gospel spreads, RWC who is called to liberate and empower by the gospel to impact their community to the honor and glory of God. We are the bearers of God’s image. We are to fill the earth, every aspect of the earth, with the knowledge of God our creator and redeemer, and thus fulfill the mandate given to Adam and Eve so long ago (Genesis 1:27-28).

Lots of people wonder why we at Remnant Westside Church call ourselves “Reformed.” “What is Reformed about RWC?” they ask. We have touched on the basic commitments of the Reformed faith. Now we hope you will learn more about our Reformed Roots, Theology, and Hope.
